

The User is the primary actor and represents a fan or analyst who interacts with the system to access Formula 1 race data. The user selects sessions and drivers and views charts to understand performance and strategy in a simple way.

